

Record high for Cornwall

Cottages.com reports huge summer success in the region

There's no doubt we've had some great weather this summer, but Cornwall can bask in the glory of record highs this year.

The UK's largest holiday cottage company, cottages.com, has reported a 98 per cent occupancy rate throughout the peak summer holiday season in the region – the highest on record for the brand.

Commenting on the impressive booking figures, Stephen Boucher, Area Manager of Cornwall at cottages.com commented: "These astonishing figures prove that Cornwall is still a popular holiday destination and shows no signs of abating. This sort of success stands us in good stead for the coming season and next year."

"We're delighted to be working with so many property owners who are helping us welcome so many visitors to the area, and the continued draw of the region is a fantastic opportunity for local property owners that might be considering starting a holiday let."

cottages.com has been working in partnership with local property owners for more than 35 years, providing expert guidance and support. For advice on making the most of a holiday property, or if you are interested in partnering with cottages.com, simply visit www.cottages.com/let-your-property.
