

Cottages.com enjoy bumper bookings as Brits make most of October sunshine!

UK holidaymakers embraced their spontaneous side to make the most of the unseasonably warm weather this past weekend, according to booking figures released today by cottages.com.

The UK's largest self-catering holiday company reported a surge in last-minute bookings for the weekend of 14th and 15th October as Brits rushed to make the most of the unexpected autumn sunshine, with bookings up by up to 14 per cent in comparison to the previous two weekends.

Simon Norton at cottages.com commented: "This past weekend was the busiest of the month so far in terms of bookings, which we're sure can be attributed, at least in part, to the unseasonably warm weather that we all enjoyed.

"We have seen last-minute bookings continuing to rise in popularity as UK holidaymakers turn to staycations to make the most of their remaining annual leave allowance. With our extensive portfolio, our guests have the flexibility to be more spontaneous and make the most of these opportunities to enjoy an impromptu getaway."

Proving that staycations are more popular than ever, these latest figures show that there hasn't been a better time for holiday property owners to maximise their potential by signing up with cottages.com.
