

Scotland Strong for Easter

Increase in bookings for 2017 cottage breaks

With the Easter break fast approaching, leading self-catering holiday company cottages.com has revealed that Scotland is its best performing destination in the UK for the popular holiday period, reporting a booking increase of almost 20 per cent YoY*!

Unveiling the figures, cottages.com also shared the Scottish regions set to receive an influx of visitors this Easter, with some destinations receiving up to a third more bookings for Easter breaks compared to last year:

1. The Highlands
2. Isle of Skye
3. Ayrshire
4. Perthshire
5. Argyll and Bute

Simon Norton at cottages.com commented: "Over the last twelve months we have seen demand for breaks to Scotland continue to rise, with a 25 per cent increase in dedicated searches for properties in the country year-on-year. Whilst locations like the Highlands, Isle of Skye and Ayrshire our most popular in terms of bookings, we've noticed significant increases in searches for more remote, coastal destinations including the Outer Hebrides, Orkney Islands and Anstruther – showing that people are keen to explore as much of the beautiful Scottish landscape as possible!"

For those hoping to get away this half term, there's still time to book a last-minute break for the family! For more inspiration, visit www.cottages.com or call 0345 498 6900.
